

Community Event Organizer Guidelines

Environmental Health is committed to partnering with Event Organizers to ensure all food being offered to the public is safe and does not become a cause of a disease outbreak. Did you know that if two or more food vendors are selling or giving away food to the public at a community event, an event organizer health permit may be required for the person organizing the event?

To get started submit an "Event Organizer Health Permit Application" along with a site plan and permit payment at least two (2) weeks prior to the community event start date.

- The Event Organizer must submit a completed packet prior to any Temporary Food Facility (i.e. food booth) health permit application(s) being accepted by Environmental Health.
- Ensure that food booth vendors that plan to participate in the community event submit a TFF Application for review and approval at least seven (7) days prior to the event.

Sample of a Site Map – Identify the following:

- Location of proposed food vendors
- Location of back-up food storage/units for food vendors
- Location of public restrooms and restrooms for use by food vendors
- Location of trash containers
- Location of shared 3-Compartment sinks
- Clean water supply and waste water; Electricity (if provided)
