Subject: Emergency Medical Services Specialist Announcement

Orange County Emergency Medical Services (OCEMS) is pleased to announce and introduce three Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Specialists. The EMS Specialists will work closely with the EMS Coordinators, EMS Section Chiefs and EMS Administrator to implement their skill and expertise in the administration of state regulatory and local policy requirements related to Emergency Medical Services ambulance and personnel licensing, compliance and personnel investigations.

Juan Alvarez, EMT
jalvarez@ochca.com

As a firefighter EMT, Juan possesses a good understanding of prehospital care systems and standards. With his experience as an EMT combined with his experience as an office specialist for California Children's Services, Juan brings a unique understanding of the administration of public health policy and the administration of public health services. Juan is currently pursuing his bachelor's degree in health science at California State University Fullerton.

mchung@ochca.com

Meng has over 6 years of experience as an EMT and his background includes operational management of an ambulance service provider, implementation of electronic data management systems and personnel management. Meng has completed his Bachelor's Degree in Health Science with a focus on public health education at California State University San Bernardino and he has also completed a local paramedic training program.

arodriguez@ochca.com

With over 12 years of experience as an Emergency Medical Technician, Adrian brings the background and knowledge which will ensure his success as an EMS Specialist. Adrian's experience includes oversight of continuing education and training programs and implementation of state and local requirements of EMT certification and accreditation standards.
