VI. BHS Update:

Annette Mugrditchian – Sober living started in October for probationers who have completed residential treatment, expanding from the AB109 population to include those on formal probation. We are still waiting for Naloxone shipment, which has no date but should be coming soon. We are estimated to start Drug Medi-Cal on March 1, 2018. We are still trying to identify providers and get them certified. A provider meeting will take place on November 14 to provide information about documentation and trainings, among other topics. RFPs will be released soon for outpatient residential withdrawal management and sober living within the next month. RFP is due to close for the 24/7 Prop 47 re-entry facility and in addition, there will be three in-reach workers that will be co-located at the jail to connect those being released that need to be linked to the re-entry facility. We will be going to the Board for about 25 additional positions that will be working strictly in the jails that will perform case management, discharge planning and linkages for those in the jails outside of the Prop 47 population.

Sandra Fair – A date for the Public Forum on the Opioid Crisis has been set for the afternoon of January 24, 2018 at the Delhi Center. This is the first of two forums, with the second one in March being a policy forum. We continue to receive back responses on our surveys and the workgroup will now focus on how we will structure the Public Forum, provide information and receive input that will help finalize the strategic plan.

Brett O'Brien – Touchstones, our residential adolescent facility is now Drug Medi-Cal certified by the State. We are currently in the process of procurement for mental health outpatient services, and we'll be negotiating contracts with various providers. These mental health outpatient services also include co-occurring substance use disorder services.

National Takeback Day also raises awareness about the importance of getting rid of unused medications and getting them out of homes to prevent misuse. Reports on how much unused medications were collected will be available in January. ADEPT is also working on County-wide AOD Prevention Strategic Plan and continues to seek input from this board. There will be another meeting on November 15 at HCA 1725 W. 17th Street in Santa Ana, which will look at the systems assessment in Orange County to identify gaps and opportunities. A partnership has been formed with BHS to carry out some trainings on Asset Building, which helps prevent a whole host of issues with the youth.
