V. BHS Update:

Annette Mugrditchian- The Opioid Report is making its way around for review from Health Care Agency (HCA) and from the board members on the committee. The residential waitlist is still lengthy, however we are actively recruiting residential providers and optimistic to bringing down the waitlist numbers. The Annita Street project is moving along, the programs that have been currently identified to be at this location are a sobering station, withdraw management, two residential providers, one for co-occurring and one traditional. This site should be built and up and running in two years. Project Kinship is having an open house at the end of this month, we will forward a flyer on this. The District Attorney has introduced an ordinance which will have all treatment providers to register with HCA expanding its requirement to also list any referring parties.

Brett O'Brien- Drug MediCal (DMC) for Adolescents, since July 1st we have admitted a total 51 adolescents into our County Clinics and County Contracted programs. A total of 88 have received services and we now have the intensive outpatient in which we have admitted a total of 10 into these types of services. For adolescents in residential care we have admitted 19 and have provided services for a total of 28. Stacy Deeble-Reynolds requested an update on these stats for meetings held at Orange County Department of Education.

VII. ADEPT Report:

Amy Buch- Amy provided information on Red Ribbon Week which took place in October. National Take Back Day took place at the end of October, there were 30 sites in Orange County and the total number of drop boxes through the County have expanded through the years. The California Healthy Kids survey results will be shared with you soon.

VIII. Public Comment:

- Amy Dunkle-

Ms. Dunkle works for the Solace Foundation, the only Naloxone distribution program in the County and over the past 3 years they have distributed over 8,000 Naloxone kits and recorded 1,800 overdose reversals. Earlier this year the Board of Supervisors accepted a grant of 3,109 boxes of Narcan which has been managed by our foundation and we have already used two thirds of those kits. She is requesting help in obtaining more of these kits to be able to continue to save lives. She has purchased all of the additional kits on her own and has cause a financial strain on her and family. She asks for the boards support to help obtain more kits.

The Board members thanked Amy for all of her work and will continue this conversation in January. Stacy would like to talk to someone in HCA to help guide them in trying to support the Solace Foundation to obtain more kits.
