

Director's Message

Dear OC Health Care Agency (HCA) Team,

Wow! It's hard to believe this is our first summer since the end of the COVID pandemic. Over the past 3 years you have worked so hard to keep us going, shifting constantly to meet the ever-changing demands all while keeping daily operations going. You truly should be proud of the work you do! I have learned so much about the great work you do in the few short weeks I have been a member of the HCA family. Having said all that, I do hope you have been able to, or plan to, take some time off and enjoy a taste of summer.

Even though summer is a time

Team Building in the OC Health Care Agency

Team building is one area the OC Health Care Agency's (HCA) Employee Communications Workgroup (ECW) has identified as a way to encourage, support and build camaraderie among HCA staff. ECW member Paullette Flores, Case Manager, Testing, Treatment and Care Clinic (TTC), Public Health Services (PHS) provided insight into team building activities she helped organize with the TTC. "I wanted to do something simple, lighthearted, that allowed all to participate and get to bond outside of the daily work routine as well as foster a spirit of collaboration," said Paullette. "What I hoped was that the long-term outcome of this would be to organically improve morale and peer relations, and in turn partner to better serve our community," she said.

The first idea for a team building exercise turned out to be a Summer Potluck and Nacho Party for the TTC team. Natalie Silva, Program Manager II, explained the team building was well received. "TTC staff work with patients who are experiencing difficult situations and complex medical diagnosis. As the Manager of TTC, I often focus on the patients and the services we provide," said Natalie. "Paullette reminded me that our team needs time to decompress and enjoy their work environment."

for vacations and relaxation, the HCA is moving forward with our work, as we always do. This is a time to examine our policies and procedures, and make adjustments and changes where they are needed.

Two immediate goals for the HCA include strengthening our organization and working together. One way to strengthen our teams and work together is through team building. I encourage you to take a moment and read the article on team building in this edition of What's Up. I hope it will encourage you, your office, team, or program to consider ways of incorporating team building activities and even sharing those activities. If team building is something you already do or if it's something you do take up, please feel free to send any team building photos or stories you have to our Communications team at hcacomm@ochca.com.

While the pandemic is officially over, COVID will remain a concern. We all play a role in keeping ourselves, those that we care about and others healthy and safe. I encourage you to continue following best practices and COVID guidelines. Your leadership, by setting the example, is so important as students return to school; we enter the fall flu season, coupled with respiratory syncytial virus; and with the holiday gatherings arriving before you know it.

Finally, I want you to say thank you for welcoming me into the HCA family. I am truly in awe of the work you do. We are such a strong Agency and I hope you feel good about the work you do and know you are supported. Keep cool and well during the hot weather.

Debra Baetz
Interim Agency Director

SAFETY TRAINING and FIRE PREVENTION

A unique and creative Safety Training helped staff focus on Fire Prevention, and called attention to the Fire Prevention training that's available on Eureka for all OC Health Care Agency (HCA) staff. In this challenge, staff with the Office of Communications, and staff with Strategy and Special Projects (SSP) were tasked with finding all 18 fire extinguishers that are located on the Fourth Floor of the HCA Headquarters building as well as the two fire alarms that are on the floor. The exercise was created by Maria Corona, Designated Safety Representative, to focus on safety and fire prevention. Staff were offered a food treat for taking part and three Starbucks gift cards were presented. One gift card was given to the first team members from each office who located the fire extinguishers, and the third gift card was given following a drawing that was open to everyone who took part.

(L-to-R): Sharon Boles, Research Analyst, Strategy and Special Projects (SSP); Roxanne Wicker, Graphic Designer, Communications; found the fire extinguishers first and received gift cards as did Samane Zarebanadkoki, Research Analyst, SSP after a drawing. Joining them is Maria Corona, Designated Safety Representative.

TEAM EXCELLENCE AWARDS

Call for Nominations for Team Excellence Award

Contributor: Chris Prevatt, Co-Team Leader, Labor & Management Committee

The deadline is August 17 to submit a nomination for the 2023 Steve Ambriz Team Excellence Award presented by the OC Health Care Agency (HCA)/ Orange County Employees Association (OCEA) Labor & Management Committee (LMC). The award spotlights HCA teams committed to excellence, and recognizes the great work being done each and every day! Last year's winners, Mental Health & Recovery Services - Children and Youth Services – Program of Assertive Community Treatment (CYS PACT), exemplified this by their ability to completely rebuild the team, by working together cohesively, by routinely going above and beyond for their clients and for each other, and by displaying passion and commitment to excellence in all they do.

You can visit the LMC Team Excellence Award Intranet webpage at <http://intranet.ochca.com/lmc/team> for application criteria, details about previous winners, and additional information about what makes an excellent team.

The members of the LMC look forward to receiving your team's nomination!

Team Building in the OC Health Care Agency

The TTC team enjoyed the initial team building exercise and expanded to weekly themes for the summer said Natalie. "The weekly themes allow staff to collaborate with each other, get to know their peers and think about something other than work. This is a quick and easy way to bring the team together. TTC has some of the most compassionate and hard-working staff, I hope this brings a little light to our work," said Natalie.

The success of the team building activities led the TTC to put together a small group called Team Event Krew (TEK), to coordinate weekly dress-up events. Those have included: Wear your Favorite Sports Team, Aloha Friday, and most recently, Colorful (Pride) Friday. These events mostly consist of dressing for the week's theme, but also include staff handing out themed stickers, drinks, and snacks. In short, these team building events were created not just for team building, but also a fun activity for the entire team.

TTC staff have enjoyed the team building activities. "Participation allows for comradery to grow amongst co-workers from different departments," said Marisol Chavez-Canales, Public Health Nurse Trainee. While Jaqueline Cordero, Office Technician said "When I have walked out on Fridays, I have bumped into staff from other programs. They said every time we see you guys, you look so happy. We wish we could do that at our clinic."

Themed Fridays have become more fun and bigger than anyone on the staff could have imagined. TEK current members include Poullette Flores; Lisette Hernandez, Referral Coordinator; Marisol Chavez-Canales, Public Health Nurse; Kevin Roldan, Public Health Investigator; Yuridia Mejia, Medical Assistant; and Yesenia Torres, Office Assistant. The support, input, and coordination of TEK members has made these themed Fridays a grand success!

Environmental Health Team Ensures Food Safety at the OC Fair

Contributor: Brian Park, Health Information Specialist

Every summer, one of the biggest events that traditionally draws more than one million people each year in Orange County (OC), is the OC Fair in Costa Mesa. The OC Fair features fun rides, attractions, and amazing food, with the theme this year of “Happy Together.” There are so many tasty food choices such as Fried Oreos, corn on the cob, turkey legs, Hawaiian dishes, and many other delicious options. One of the main ways for visitors to be ‘Happy Together’ is by enjoying safely prepared food. Achieving the goal of safe food is made possible by the amazing Environmental Health (EH) Food Safety Protection Program Inspectors from the OC Health Care Agency (HCA).

On Opening Day of the OC Fair, the EH team, led by Christine Lane, EH Director, Darwin Cheng, EH Assistant Director inspects food vendors to ensure food handling safety requirements are in place so that guests who attend the fair have food that’s properly prepared and handled. The EH team arrives at the fair before the gates open, which allows enough time to inspect their designated areas throughout the fairgrounds. Lead inspector, José Valdez coordinated inspection teams to ensure efficient inspections, since there were over 180 booths to inspect. 20 inspectors completed 161 food booth inspections on the first day of the Fair.

Planning for this type of event takes many hours and collaboration with Supervisors and inspectors in the EH Food and Pool Safety program. Brian Wong, Supervising Environmental Health Specialist for Special Events, and Lorena Nieves, Supervising Environmental Health Specialist for the City of Costa Mesa, coordinated with their staff and event organizers with the Fairgrounds to ensure no significant issues were encountered during inspections on opening day. Foodborne illness impacts millions of people every year. These illnesses can be attributed to improper or lack of handwashing, food not being cooked to proper temperatures, food not held at proper temperatures, food improperly cooled, and equipment and food contact surfaces not properly cleaned and sanitized. During the fair, EH inspectors check a number of items and evaluates the food operation to ensure there are no risk factor violations present at that time. This includes ensuring adequate hot and cold water, hand soap and paper towels are available, refrigerators are holding at proper temperatures, food is cooked to proper temperatures, sanitizer is available, equipment is clean, no presence of vermin, and liquid waste is properly disposed of.

The team works very hard to inspect the food vendors, walking the fairgrounds despite the heat and crowds.

In addition to making certain food vendors follow requirements for safe food handling, the EH team also inspects the hand-washing stations outside of the petting zoo, livestock barn and Centennial Farm so guests can have clean hands after petting the adorable animals. The farm has a variety of animals that guests can pet, including goats, sheep, pigs, and even a wallaby. The OC Fair runs from July 14 to August 13. If you attend, you might see our EH colleagues working diligently in the background. There are at least two EH Inspectors on the grounds every day when the fair is open. Thank you to the EH Inspectors for your dedication and hard work and for making the OC Fair a place where families, friends and fairgoers can enjoy their food and be “Happy Together.”

For Health

Snack Healthy

Having a balanced snack is important to stay satisfied between meals. Make snacks out of summer seasonal produce such as apples, avocados, cantaloupes, and cucumbers; and combine it with a protein such as Greek yogurt, cottage cheese or hummus. You can also combine produce with fat such as nuts and seeds. Here are some great combos to try this summer:

- Greek Yogurt and Raspberries
- Frozen Grapes with almonds
- Celery with peanut butter
- Tuna salad with 1 toast
- Hard-boiled egg with carrot sticks and hummus

If you have children get creative with snacks and make things such as “ants on a log” or “apple and grape cars” to encourage them to eat fresh fruits and veggies. Visit here, for some more snack ideas for kids.
