

Purpose
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>❖ To support clinical staff in determining the most appropriate CalOMS discharge status and IRIS discharge reason for each client when treatment services end.</li> <li>❖ It is recommended that this be used to help guide clinical judgement and, as appropriate, used in conjunction with clinical consultation and/or supervision.</li> </ul>
Key Concepts to Keep in Mind
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>❖ A Harm Reduction approach, as opposed to an abstinence-based approach, to treatment.</li> <li>❖ Medical necessity model of treatment, as opposed to a standardized program model.</li> </ul>
Clinical Considerations
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>❖ Whether it be an administrative or standard CalOMS discharge, there are a number of clinical considerations when selecting a discharge status.</li> <li>❖ It can be particularly challenging when it comes to determining whether or not a client completed services and whether or not a client made satisfactory progress during the course of treatment.</li> </ul>

- ❖ When determining whether or not a client has completed treatment, clinical staff should consider several factors.

Satisfactory vs Unsatisfactory Progress

❖ While the client may be discharging prior to the completion of treatment for a number of reasons (e.g. moved, declined services, unable to contact, incarceration), several factors should be considered when determining whether satisfactory or unsatisfactory progress has been made during the time the client was participating in treatment.
