BHSA Workgroups' Goal

The Behavioral Health Services Act (BHSA) Ad Hoc Workgroups provide a structured, collaborative way for stakeholders to share input, review services, and offer recommendations that support community planning and a more equitable behavioral health system. This collaborative process will ask consumers, system partners, professionals and other stakeholders to work together to create a more equitable system of care. These workgroups will assist with our community program planning to ensure services, treatment and support programs are strategically aligned with community priorities, resources are used effectively, and desired outcomes are attained.
